HEALTHCARE TECH OUTLOOK MAGAZINE SELECTS GLOBAL TELEHEALTH SERVICES AMONG 2017 TOP 20 CONNECTED HEALTH SOLUTION PROVIDERS

GTS RECOGNIZED FOR ITS VIRTUALHEALTH SOLUTION

HUDSON, OHIO, December 20, 2017

Healthcare Tech Outlook Magazine selected Global Telehealth Services (GTS) among its 2017's ranking of Top 20 Connected Health Solution Providers. The magazine tracked hundreds of solution providers over a year and evaluated their technology on markets served and pain points addressed. The publication's December feature hosted a comprehensive, in-depth feature on GTS. They are recognized as a leader in 'improving outcomes through virtual health.

This endowed recognition transpired after an extensive deliberation with honorary industrial experts, business leaders, and Healthcare Tech Outlook's editorial team. The positioning for the Top 20 Connected Health Solution Providers is based on the evaluation of Global Telehealth Services' specialties that offer a path toward interconnected virtual solutions meant to address industry-wide challenges.

Alex D’souza, the managing editor of Healthcare Tech Outlook, states, “We are glad to showcase Global Telehealth Services this year due to its VirtualHealth platform, which integrates each aspect of patient care—ensuring that the continuum of care is maintained while also providing real-time actionable data to providers.” He further elucidates, “the agnostic strategy which the firm delivers, enables the creation of operational efficiencies quickly while patient and health system expenses decrease, and patient satisfaction scores improve.”

“We welcome this recognition for how our VirtualHealth solution connects providers and patients to achieve better health outcomes,” says Michael Miller, CEO of Global Telehealth Services. “The GTS VirtualHealth platform stands agnostic to healthcare operating systems and connected devices. Any video platform, or electronic medical record system easily integrates into our middleware solution. Our clients can now leverage their existing technology investments to align patient care needs with provider services in a holistic, interconnected way.”
